ADEXPRESS: STANDING ORDER

AdExpress gives you instant notification and acquisition of creative content as soon as a specified advertiser or category is added to our library.

Define your competitive set and media coverage. Whenever a new advertisement that matches your specifications is entered into our library, we alert you by email. Shortly after, you get competitive advertisements delivered automatically in your choice of format to the destinations of your choice.

Like our AdAlert service, specify which competitors or categories to monitor so that when a new advertisement that matches your criteria is entered into the creative library, it is automatically ordered and delivered to you.
